West Yorkshire Armed Forces Covenant Survey

People who have served or who currently serve in the Armed Forces (including Reservists) and their families are being asked to take part in a survey to gauge their awareness of the Armed Forces Covenant and to hear of their experiences of accessing services both within and outside the Council.

The survey is being carried out on behalf of all five West Yorkshire Councils (Bradford, Leeds, Calderdale, Kirklees and Wakefield) who have signed the Armed Forces Covenant and work in partnership with others including the Military, Health and Charities, to ensure they are doing what they can to support their Local Armed Forces Community. The Covenant, launched in 2011 is a promise from the nation that no one who has served in the Armed Forces or their families should face disadvantage when accessing services.

The survey aims to find out:

- What services are being accessed for support including those offered by the Council, Partners and Charities
- Experiences of accessing these services
- Awareness of the Armed Forces Covenant

Feedback from the survey will be used to help inform service improvements and provide data about the Armed Forces Community and their possible future support needs.

Any responses used in reports will be anonymised, so that no one will be identifiable through taking part in this survey. Feedback reports from the survey will be available via the five local Councils own websites later on this year.

The West Yorkshire Armed Forces Covenant Survey needs to be completed by the 29 February.

Level 3 Engineering Apprenticeship (Sep Intake)

Our railway lines are the economic arteries of our nation where every day, more than 4.6 million journeys are made in the UK. Network Rail owns, operates and develops Britain's railway infrastructure – that's 20,000 miles of track, 30,000 bridges, tunnels and viaducts, and thousands of signals, level crossings and stations. Our role is to deliver a safe and reliable railway for Britain.

The number of passenger journeys undertaken on Britain's railways has doubled over the past 20 years. We help the railway network to grow and improve in response to that tremendous growth and demand – and our apprentices are at the heart of that work.

As an engineering apprentice with Network Rail, you'll have three amazing years on the scheme with the first phase of the scheme being spent living and learning at one of our dedicated training centres; Westwood and HMS Sultan. Following that, you'll join a depot close to home where you'll get out and about on the network specialising in distribution & plant, telecoms, overhead lines, signalling, track or off-track.

What we're looking for Quite simply, we're looking for enthusiastic people with the vision to be future leaders for our workforce.

Right now, you'll be passionate about engineering and committed to further study and learning to help you achieve your goal of becoming an engineer. It's critical that our apprentices are safety aware, with strong attention to detail and good problem-solving skills. You'll be happy to listen and learn from others and work within a team, but you'll also have the confidence to communicate your own ideas.

The Advanced apprenticeship scheme at Network Rail is open to anyone who will be aged 18 on or before 29th September 2020. There's no upper age limit.

In order to be eligible for the scheme, you'll need at least four GCSEs at A*– C / 9 - 5 (or four Scottish National's at Level 5 or equivalent). This must include Maths and Science or Engineering subject. You must also have an English GCSE qualification at grade 4 or higher to be eligible for the programme.

You'll need to be available to start on 29 September 2020. Please note you will be unable to take holiday during the residential phase of the scheme outside of scheduled holiday dates.
